

THE CREATOR NETWORK · CREATIVE PROMPTS & CHALLENGE LIBRARY

What to put in front of them every week.

Affiliates do not fail from lack of motivation. They fail because on a given Tuesday they do not know what to film. A weekly prompt, a monthly challenge and a quarterly campaign remove that friction permanently — and every one of them ships with AI reference frames so nobody has to guess at the format.

THURSDAY AFFILIATE CONNECT CALL · PINNED IN WHOP

VERSION

V2.0 · SEPTEMBER 2026

PART 01

The three cadences.

01 WEEKLY PROMPT One format, delivered on the Thursday call with a real example working right now, then pinned in WHOP. Five minutes to explain, removes the whole week's friction.	02 MONTHLY CHALLENGE A named challenge with a hashtag, a deadline and a prize. A burst of volume, a leaderboard moment, and a month of repostable content.	03 QUARTERLY CAMPAIGN Tied to a product moment — the collagen launch, Q4 gifting, a Breakfast Club series. Bigger production, flagship creators, paid spend behind the winners.
--	---	--

PRIZES ARE NEVER CASH FOR POSTING

Per the doctrine: the commission is the money, the prize is the status. Prizes are a tier promotion, product and merch, early access to an unreleased product, a newsletter and brand-page feature, a produced session with our crew, a collab pack for their own event — and at the top, a golden ticket or 20 minutes with Keys.

Every challenge brief ships with three AI reference frames from the library so the format is shown, not described. Judged on brand fit and craft, not follower count — a 900-follower entry can win, and when one does, say so loudly.

PART 02

Six challenges, ready to run.

CHALLENGE	MECHANIC	PRIZE	WHY IT WORKS
THE ARCHITECTURE #MySupermindScore	Score yourself 0–1.0 across the brand's own five markers — Focus, Recovery, Sleep, Movement, Creation. Post the card, name the one you are training this month.	Tier promotion + feature	Turns brand IP into a participatory format. Every post teaches our framework to a new audience. Run this one first.
THE FIRST HOUR #SupermindFirstHour	Seven days, seven posts of your actual first hour. Consistency, not production value.	Full product bundle + newsletter feature	Trains the daily posting habit that separates the top affiliate from everyone else. Doubles as the monthly brand-owned date.
THE TRADE #TheTradeUp	What you stopped drinking, and what you drink now. No shaming, no claims — just the swap.	Early access to the next drop	Opens the sober-curious lane nobody in this category has claimed. Lands hardest in January.
THE RECIPE LAB #SupermindRecipes	Best original recipe with the coffee or chocolate. Judged on taste and film quality.	Recipe produced by our crew + permanent feature	Recipes are the thing our own subscribers ask each other for most. Builds a library we publish for years.

BREAKFAST CLUB #SupermindBreakfastClub	Host three or more people for a morning coffee. Kitchen, park, shop — anywhere. Film the room.	Event collab pack for their next one	Turns Keys' Breakfast Club concept into distributed UGC before we produce a single official event.
FOREVER YOUNG #ForeverYoungRitual	Built for the collagen launch: the longevity ritual, filmed. Women-led by design.	First access to the formula + campaign casting	The lever on the audience split. Launch with the product, not after it.

THE CHALLENGE BRIEF TEMPLATE

Every brief posted in WHOP carries the same seven blocks: the name and hashtag • what to film in one sentence • three reference frames • the deadline • the prize • the rules (disclosure, no treatment claims, no CBD on TikTok, entry grants repost permission) • how to enter. Written once, reused monthly.

The weekly prompt library.

Organised by the World Bible's four visual modes, so an affiliate filming any of them produces on-brand content without being scripted. Pull one per week.

ANALOG ARCHIVE — WARM, GATHERED, INTELLECTUAL

PROMPT	WHAT THEY FILM	WHY IT CONVERTS
The First Hour	Their real first hour, unglamorous: the pour, the notebook, light coming up, the first task begun	The purest expression of the brand. Nobody sells anything; the ritual sells it.
Protect Your Attention	Coffee, a timer, one task, no phone. Show the hour, show what got finished	Turns the brand's own line into a demonstration instead of a slogan.
The Table	Three or four people around coffee and a real conversation. Not a party — a table	Community made visible. The club framing without saying "club."
What I'm Reading	The cup beside the book, one paragraph read aloud, why it matters to them	Composed intelligence as status — the whole thesis in fifteen seconds.
The Setup	A slow pan of the desk, studio, gym bag or counter where the cup actually lives	Aspirational without posing. Very high save-and-share rate.

LUXURY LABORATORY — PRODUCT AS ARTIFACT

PROMPT	WHAT THEY FILM	WHY IT CONVERTS
The Unboxing, Slowed Down	The oxblood box, the seal, the vessel. Real sound, no music for the first three seconds	Sensory content is the highest-performing product format in this category — and the new box is designed for exactly this frame.
What's Actually In It	Reading the ingredients aloud, explaining one in plain language	Education beats pitching, and it is the safest possible territory.
The Pour	One shot, one pour, hard side light, no talking	Beautiful, endlessly repostable, and it works as a paid asset later.
Gold, Silver, Oxblood	Which vessel they reached for today, and why	Turns the vessel system into a personality quiz. Enormous comment driver.

RITUAL IN MOTION — TRAINING, TRAIL, DISCIPLINE

PROMPT	WHAT THEY FILM	WHY IT CONVERTS
Before the Session	The creatine pack or the coffee, then straight into the work	Product inside the action, never interrupting it.
The Trade	What Supermind replaced — the energy drink, the fourth cup, the thing they quit	The most under-used story in the category.
Sunrise Miles	Coffee, then out the door before the sun	Made for the run-club and hiking partnerships we are opening.
Recovery Is Training	The evening version — the wind-down, the chocolate, the notebook	Reaches the longevity audience and gives the brand a second daypart.

PROMPT	WHAT THEY FILM	WHY IT CONVERTS
The Recipe	What they actually make with it — the iced build, the cacao version, chocolate in something	The highest-value UGC we can request, and it costs nothing.
Where It Comes From	One ingredient, explained the way you would explain it to a friend	Curiosity converts. Positions the brand as a house, not a product.
Plants and Paper	The cup in a green room — greenhouse, garden, plant wall, park bench	Distinctive against a category that shoots everything on white marble.

PART 04

Prompts written for the audience we are chasing.

The prompts above work for anyone. These are written specifically for the lanes where Black women creators are strongest, and they should lead every rotation.

LANE	PROMPT	WHY IT FITS HER PAGE
Get ready with me	"The cup in the corner." Her normal GRWM, with the coffee genuinely in it — not held up to camera, just present the way it actually is.	The single most natural placement a coffee brand has. No format change required at all.
Soft life / that girl	"Slow morning, no rush." The unhurried version — light, sound, the pour, nothing being sold.	Aspiration without effort. Highest save rate of any format in this lane.
Business & ambition	"What the first hour of a working day looks like." Desk, plan, the cup, the actual work starting.	Productivity is the category's growth edge and nobody in coffee is in this lane.
Food & recipe	"Make it the way you'd make it for someone you like." A real recipe, filmed properly.	Coffee and baking is the most effortless pairing available, at the best engagement rates we found.
Wellness & longevity	"One thing you do for your brain." The ritual, the reason, the cup inside it.	Cognitive positioning delivered by someone with credibility, without a claims problem.
Fitness	"Before, during, after." Creatine before, coffee after, the session in between.	Product inside real discipline. Two SKUs in one post.
Motherhood	"The ten minutes that are mine." The pocket of quiet before the day starts.	Universally recognised, deeply felt, and the product belongs there honestly.

Running it.

THE DELIVERY MECHANISM

- 01 Thursday call, 10-minute slot. One prompt, one real example of it working, why it works. Five minutes of explanation, five of questions.
- 02 Pinned in WHOP the same day with the reference frames attached, so anyone who missed the call has it.
- 03 Included in the day-2 welcome email for new affiliates — matched to the lane they signed up in.
- 04 Repeated in the newsletter's Network slot when the prompt produced something worth showing.

THE FAILURE MODE TO WATCH

A prompt library is worthless if nobody delivers it. The mechanism is the Thursday call, and that call does not exist yet.

If it has not started by September 29, this document is decoration.

MEASUREMENT

METRIC	TARGET BY DEC 1
Weekly prompts delivered	Every week without a gap
Challenges run	3 (Sept, Oct, Nov)
Entries per challenge	15 → 40 → 70
Challenge entries reposted	100% of qualifying
Affiliates moved from Stories to feed	The behaviour change worth tracking by name
Challenge winners promoted a tier	Every winner, same week

RULES ON EVERY PROMPT AND CHALLENGE

- Disclosure required — the challenge hashtag is not a disclosure.
- No treatment claims. Use the "say this, not that" bank in the Handbook.
- No CBD or gummies references on TikTok.
- Entry grants permission to repost and to amplify with paid spend, stated in the brief.
- Collaborative posts encouraged on everything — one post, two audiences.
