

THE CREATOR NETWORK · AFFILIATE HANDBOOK

You're in. Here's how this works.

Everything you need in one place: how you get paid, exactly how you move up, the small number of rules that protect us both, and the wide creative lane that belongs entirely to you. We are not going to script you. We chose you because of how you already move — this document just makes sure you know where the money is and what we can do for you.

PART 01

How you get paid, and how you move up.

TIER	WEBSITE	TIKTOK SHOP	WHAT YOU GET	HOW YOU GET THERE
Member	10%	15%	Your own code and link, this handbook, both communities	You're already here
Creator	15%	20%	Free product every quarter, first access to new drops, your name on the leaderboard	$400 in sales in 30 days
Partner	20%	25%	A physical Supermind membership card with your name on it , a collab pack for your own events, content produced with our crew, your story in the newsletter	$1,000 in sales in 30 days
Flagship	20%	25–30% in campaigns	A produced film about you, event invites, golden tickets, and 20 minutes with Keys	By invitation

THE RULE IN ONE LINE

You move up on sales — not followers, not how long you've been here. Hit the number, get the tier, same week. Somebody with 900 followers and a good post beats somebody with 90,000 and a lazy one, and we would rather pay the first person.

WEBSITE SALES — YOUR LINK AND YOUR CODE

- You get a unique link and a unique discount code. Use both. The code catches sales where nobody clicks — someone hears it on camera and types it at checkout. The link catches everything else.
- Commission pays on the first order from a new customer. Payouts run automatically about twice a month after a 30-day hold, which is the refund window. $25 minimum per payout.
- US affiliates: send us a W-9 when we ask. It's a one-time thing, and payouts cap without it.

TIKTOK SHOP SALES

- Add Supermind products from the TikTok Shop affiliate marketplace — TikTok requires 1,000 followers — or accept our direct invite, which has no minimum. Tag products in videos and LIVES; the sale closes in the app and TikTok pays you.
- Free samples: request them through the platform. Post within 14 days so we can keep sending them.
- Your rate locks for 30 days once you start promoting a product.
- Coffee, chocolate and creatine on TikTok. Not the gummies — TikTok doesn't allow that category, so promote those on Instagram, in email, and through your website link.

PART 02

The four things we ask every time.

Short list. These four make the difference between a post that quietly disappears and one that compounds for both of us.

- 01 Post it as a collaborative post with @supermind. This is the highest-leverage thing you can do and it costs you nothing. A collab post lands on our feed and yours at the same time, shares the engagement, and puts you in front of our whole audience. Tag us as a collaborator when you post and we'll accept whatever is genuinely good — and "good" here means it fits your page, not that it looks like an ad.

- 02 Tag the brand, always. Even when it isn't a collab post. It's how we find your work to repost it, and we repost a creator every single day.
- 03 Disclose. "#ad", "commissionable link", or just saying it on camera — "Supermind sponsors me," "I earn from this." On video, say it and show it. This is US law and it protects you personally, not just us.
- 04 Be yourself about it. Authenticity is the actual brand value here, not a slogan we put in a deck. If a post feels like an ad you were paid to make, it will underperform and it will cost you trust you can't buy back. Say the true thing about how you actually use it.

STRONGLY RECOMMENDED: SET UP MANYCHAT ON YOUR ACCOUNT

The creators earning the most in this program are not posting more — they are capturing more of the people who already engaged. ManyChat automates that: when someone comments a keyword on your post, it auto-replies to the comment and sends them your link in the DM. You wake up to conversions from a post you made yesterday.

It's free to start and takes about twenty minutes. Ask the creator inbox and we'll walk you through the exact setup we use — including the comment triggers and DM copy that work for this product. If you take one piece of technical advice from this handbook, take this one.

Talking about the product without creating a problem.

You can talk about how Supermind makes you feel. You cannot say it treats a medical condition. That's the whole thing, and the gap between those two is wider than people assume.

Talk about brain fog, focus, energy, your mornings, how a day goes when you've had it and how one goes when you haven't. Talk about your own experience in your own words — that's the good stuff anyway, and it converts better than anything clinical.

What we steer away from is language that sounds like medicine: that it cures, treats, heals, prevents or fixes a named condition. Not because anyone is going to come after you for a passing comment, but because that language quietly makes the post worse — it stops sounding like you and starts sounding like a supplement ad.

If you're unsure about a sentence, send it to the creator inbox. We'll answer the same day and we'll never make you feel silly for asking.

SAY THIS, NOT THAT

INSTEAD OF	TRY
"Cures my brain fog"	"Cuts through the fog for me"
"Treats my ADHD"	"On days my focus is everywhere, this is what I reach for"
"Fixes anxiety"	"Part of how I keep myself steady"
"Boosts your immune system"	"Part of my daily routine"
"Clinically proven to..."	"Here's what the research says about lion's mane" (and link it)
"Detoxes your body"	"How I start my mornings clean"
"Replaces your medication"	Don't. This one's a hard no.
"Will give you energy for hours"	"I don't get the 2pm crash with this"
"Heals your gut"	"Sits easier on my stomach than regular coffee"

Pattern: move the claim from the product does X to here's what happens for me. Same message, your voice, no exposure. Also skip before-and-after imagery and don't promise a specific result by a specific date.

PART 04

Who we're talking to — and why it helps you.

Supermind is built for Black women who are building something. That's the center of the audience, and knowing it makes your content sharper.

She is somewhere between 25 and 45. She works, she creates, she runs something or is about to. She reads. She takes her mornings seriously and she's tired of wellness that talks down to her or costs $400 to participate in. She wants to feel clear, not wired — and she wants the thing she drinks every morning to feel like it belongs in her life, not like a supplement she's forcing down.

She is not looking for a miracle. She's looking for a ritual that's actually good.

THE BRAND IN FIVE LINES, SO YOU CAN IMPROVISE AROUND IT

- Cognitive luxury. Composed intelligence is the status symbol. Not hustle, not grind — clarity.
- Quiet authority. Restraint, precision, space. We don't shout. Neither should the post.
- Ancestral and future at once. Warm archive coffeehouse meets precision laboratory.
- Real light, real materials. Warm practicals over ring light. Texture over filters.
- The colors: oxblood, gold, ivory, deep green. If your frame already has those in it, you're home.

This doesn't mean your audience has to look like that. Men, other communities, other age ranges — all welcome, all earning. It means that when you're deciding what angle to take, the woman above is who the brand is speaking to, and content that speaks to her tends to travel furthest for us.

WHAT WE'D LOVE TO SEE MORE OF

- Your actual morning — unstaged, real light, the first sip.
- Recipes. Genuinely the thing our customers ask each other for most.
- The cup inside your work: the desk, the studio, the trail, the chessboard.
- Education — what lion's mane actually is, explained like you'd explain it to a friend.
- The trade: what you stopped drinking, and what you drink now.

Housekeeping.

WHERE THE COMMUNITY LIVES

- WHOP — the affiliate side. The orientation course, the leaderboard, campaign and challenge briefs, and the Thursday call. This is where you find out what's working and what we're paying attention to.
- Zion — the community side. Hikes, events, meetups, and a place to promote your own events. If you're hosting something, post it there and we'll help push it.
- Sign up for both. They do different jobs.

THE THURSDAY CALL — 30 MINUTES, WORTH IT

Every Thursday, half an hour, recorded so you can catch it later. Wins and the leaderboard, one product story so you can speak accurately, the one content format converting right now with a real example, and open questions. Show up when you can.

A FEW PRACTICAL THINGS

- Don't run paid ads bidding on the word "Supermind" or lookalike domains. Organic is the game.
- Don't buy followers or run engagement pods on commissionable content. Platforms catch it and payouts get reversed.
- Please don't post your code to coupon sites — it dilutes the value of being an affiliate and it isn't what the code is for.
- Use the logo files from the asset folder as they are. Don't retype or redraw the wordmark.
- No alcohol, tobacco or intoxication in frame with the product. Adults only on camera.

QUICK ANSWERS

QUESTION	ANSWER
When do I get paid?	Website: automatic, about twice monthly after the 30-day hold. TikTok Shop: TikTok pays you on its own schedule.
Can I run both?	Yes. TikTok Shop tags inside TikTok, your link and code everywhere else — Instagram, YouTube, newsletter, bio.
Do I earn on subscriptions?	You earn on the first order. Bringing in subscribers is still the fastest way up the tiers and we track it.
How do I know where I stand?	Your dashboard shows sales in real time. The leaderboard posts Mondays. We'll tell you the moment you cross a tier.
I want free product to make content with.	Ask. Seeding goes to people who post consistently, and TikTok samples can be requested in-platform.
Can I say it helps my focus?	Yes — "supports my focus," "here's how it works for me." Just not "it treats" anything.
Something's wrong with my code or payout.	Creator inbox. 24-hour reply, Monday to Friday.
I'm hosting an event.	Tell us. At Partner tier we send a collab pack — cups, coffee, merch, goodie bags — and we'll promote it in Zion.
