

INTERNAL · CONTENT

Content System.

How Supermind content gets planned, made and approved: the pillars, the weekly shape, and the approval path.

PROGRAM

SUPERMIND TEAM

WHERE

ACCOUNT · @SUPERMINDLAB

VERSION

V3.2 · SEPTEMBER 2026

PILLARS

What we post about

PILLAR	WHAT IT IS	ROUGHLY
The label	Doses, sourcing, formulation. The argument almost nobody else can make	20%
The ritual	Mornings, work blocks, the afternoon chocolate	25%
The world	Culture, lineage, the rooms where thinking happens	20%
The people	Affiliates, customers, founders	20%
The offer	The program, the products, the challenge	15%

WEEK

The weekly shape

DAY	POST
Monday	Ritual. The morning, at real speed
Wednesday	Label or world. The teaching post
Friday	People. An affiliate, a customer, a founder
Weekend	Repost affiliate content, with credit

Stories daily where there is something real to show. Feed and Reels carry the weight.

MAKING IT

Standards

Witnessed rather than staged. Real hands, skin, kitchens, desks and plants. Warm archive light. The product inside the action rather than posed on a surface. Black life central and dimensional, never texture.

Every caption: one idea, a hook in the first line, a single instruction at the end. #ai on generated visuals. #ad on anything commissioned.

APPROVAL

The path

CONTENT	APPROVED BY
Brand account posts	Coordinator drafts, B. Amechi approves
Anything naming a study or a dose	B. Amechi, against the source
Anything featuring 19Keys	B. Amechi, always
Reposting affiliate content	Coordinator, with the affiliate's permission
Campaign assets	B. Amechi

Nothing goes out the same hour it is written. A second read the next morning catches most of what we would regret.

AFFILIATE CONTENT

Reviewing what they post

Check weekly: disclosure present, no medical claims, correct product lane, @supermindlab tagged. Praise the good ones publicly in Wins. Fix the rest privately with SM-SOP-26.