CLAIMS

Never say the product treats anything

United States law treats a food product that claims to treat, cure, prevent or heal a condition as an unapproved drug. That exposure lands on the company and on the person who wrote the sentence.

NEVER	INSTEAD
Cures brain fog	Cuts through the fog for me
Treats ADHD, anxiety, depression	On days my focus is everywhere, this is what I reach for
Heals your gut	Sits easier on my stomach than regular coffee
Boosts immunity	Part of how I take care of myself
Clinically proven	Here is what the research says, with the link
Replaces medication	Never, in any form

Never advise on a health condition, a medication, a pregnancy or an allergy. Point to the ingredient list at asupermind.com and to a doctor or pharmacist.

DISCLOSURE

Every paid or commissioned post says so #ad or #affiliate in the caption and visible in the video, or a spoken statement that a commission is earned. A disclosure in a comment, or buried in a wall of hashtags, does not count.

#ai goes on any AI-generated visual.

When you see an affiliate post without disclosure: send the canned reply in SM-SOP-26, ask them to edit the caption, and log it. Twice is a conversation. Repeatedly is removal.

MONEY

Nothing about money is improvised

- Commission rates, payout dates and minimums come from SM-SOP-15. Never quote a number that is not written there.
- Codes are entered into Shopify by Pam only.
- Never promise a payment date that has not been confirmed.
- Never change an affiliate's rate without B. Amechi's written approval.

- Refund reversals are the only case where earned commission comes off.

BRAND

Assets and approvals

- The wordmark is used as supplied: level, unstretched, original colour, minimum 160 px on screen.
- Digital use is open to affiliates. Anything printed or manufactured needs approval, since the master vector is still pending proof.
- Paid ads using an affiliate code need written permission first.
- Never publish anything about 19Keys without B. Amechi.
- Never share another affiliate's sales, earnings or contact details.

PEOPLE

Conduct

Nobody is removed from the program without a conversation first. Removal is reserved for repeated undisclosed posting after being asked, medical claims, misrepresenting the brand, and abuse directed at staff or other affiliates. B. Amechi makes that call.

When you are unsure, stop. Post the exact sentence in the team thread before it goes out. Nobody has ever been criticised here for asking. Every serious problem in this category started with somebody guessing.
