

INTERNAL · GROWTH

Affiliate Lead Gen.

Where new affiliates come from, how to approach them, and the weekly number that keeps the program growing.

PROGRAM

SUPERMIND TEAM

WHERE

OWNER · COORDINATOR

VERSION

V3.2 · SEPTEMBER 2026

THE TARGET

Ten approaches a week

Ten personal approaches every week, tracked. Expect roughly three replies, two joins and one who posts. That cadence compounds; a burst followed by silence does not.

SOURCES

Where they come from

SOURCE	HOW TO WORK IT
Existing customers	The warmest source. Anyone who reordered twice already likes the product
People who tag us	Check @supermindlab mentions weekly. They have already posted for free
Commenters	People who ask "where do I get this" under brand posts
Competitor audiences	See SM-MKT-01
The Ziion community	The Supermind group
Affiliate referrals	Ask Partners who else should be in the room
Local circles	Run clubs, study groups, coworking rooms, barbershops, wellness studios

WHO FITS

The filter

Look for somebody who posts consistently, whose audience trusts them, and whose life already contains a morning worth filming. Audience size is the weakest signal we have: an engaged 4,000 outsells a passive 200,000.

Pass on anyone whose content conflicts with the brand: medical claims, get-rich content, or an audience built on outrage.

THE APPROACH

What to send

```
Hi [name] – [specific thing they posted], which is why I am writing.
```

```
I run the affiliate program for Supermind, functional mushroom coffee with the doses printed on the bag. Free to join, 10 to 30% commission, and everything you need to post is already made.
```

```
If it fits your mornings, here is the room:
whop.com/supermind
```

```
Either way, keep making what you are making.
```

One follow-up after five days. Never a third.

TRACKING

Log every approach

Name, handle, source, date contacted, date followed up, outcome. Put it in the tracker's Leads tab. Report the count every Wednesday.