| QUESTION                     | ANSWER                                                                           |
|------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Does it cost anything?       | No fee, no minimum purchase, nothing to buy                                      |
| Do I need a big following?   | No for the website code and link. TikTok Shop has its own 1,000-follower minimum |
| How do I get my code?        | Start Here, Module 02. They choose the word                                      |
| Can I change my code later?  | No. It would break every post already published                                  |
| How long does approval take? | There is no approval queue. Codes are issued within one business day             |
| Do I have to be in the US?   | The website program is open more widely. TikTok Shop requires a US-based account |

Earning and payment

| QUESTION                        | ANSWER                                                                                                 |
|---------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| What do I earn?                 | 10% website and 15% TikTok at Member, rising to 20% and 25% at Partner                                 |
| How do I move up?               | $400 in sales in any 30 days for Creator, $1,000 for Partner. Checked weekly                         |
| When am I paid?                 | Monthly for the previous month. Date and minimum are in the welcome email. TikTok pays you directly    |
| Somebody bought without my code | You are credited if they clicked your link within 30 days                                              |
| Why is a sale missing?          | Another discount code, the other platform, or a different date range. Send date, platform, rough value |
| Do I earn on my own orders?     | Yes                                                                                                    |
| Refunds?                        | Commission on a returned order reverses                                                                |
| Subscriptions?                  | First order earns. Ongoing commission is a Partner-and-above arrangement                               |
| Tax?                            | We cannot advise. US affiliates may be asked for a W-9                                                 |

| QUESTION                      | ANSWER                                                                   |
|-------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| What should I post?           | Morning routine, label read, deep work block, taste test. Feed and Reels |
| How often?                    | Once a week, consistently                                                |
| Can I use your photos?        | Everything in The Vault and the Brand Kit is pre-approved                |
| Can I use AI?                 | Yes. Put #ai in the caption on generated visuals                         |
| Do I have to say it is an ad? | Yes. #ad or #affiliate in the caption and visible on video               |
| Can I run paid ads?           | Written permission first. Ask in Help                                    |
| Can I put the logo on merch?  | Not yet. Print approval is a separate conversation                       |

|--------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| What does it taste like?                   | Like coffee. Smooth and roasted, with no earthy finish                                                                  |
| Will it make me jittery?                   | The arabica lifts and the L-Theanine supports calm focus alongside it. Most people find it smoother than regular coffee |
| How much Lion's Mane?                      | 1,000mg of fruiting body per serving, printed on the bag                                                                |
| Is it safe with [condition or medication]? | We cannot answer that. Ingredient list at asupermind.com, and speak to a doctor or pharmacist                           |
| Is it organic?                             | Organic arabica. Full detail on the Science page                                                                        |

|-------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------|
| Can I host an event with Supermind? | Yes, let us talk. Ask in Help and we will connect you |
| Can I stock it in my store?         | Wholesale is a separate conversation. Ask in Help     |
| Can you promote my event?           | Post it in the Ziion group and we will                |

| QUESTION                        | ANSWER                                                    |
|---------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------|
| Where is the Thursday call?     | The Supermind group on Ziion, recorded and posted in Whop |
| I did not get a welcome message | Send it by hand, then check SM-SOP-05                     |
