

ENGINE ONE · CREATOR GROWTH COLLABORATIONS

People who make things.

The instruments, the process, and the working target list. The filter that matters most:
— not a celebrity roster. Someone with 40,000 followers who films every week and hosts real events is worth more to us than a name with two million who posts twice a year.

OWNER	OPS	VERSION
B. AMECHI · KEYS APPROVES EVERY TRANCHE	CELINA — FULFILLMENT	V5.0 · SEPTEMBER 2026

PART 01

The instruments.

INSTRUMENT	COST	WHAT IT BUYS	USE WHEN
Gift box	~$40–55	A relationship, a handwritten note from Keys, and a pre-made affiliate code. Content if they choose to make it.	The relationship matters more than the immediate post. 15–25 a month.
Event collab pack	~$200	A whole room, their content team filming it, and the product in their frames from that day forward.	They have already assembled the audience. We are buying the room, not a post.
Micro-influencer campaign	$12/reel	Production volume — Kid Media Group at $300 for 25 reels, all-inclusive.	We need content quantity and have the direction to fill it.
Targeted platform invite	$0	A commission relationship with no upfront cost. The widest net we have.	Always. 50 per batch.
Partnership conversation	Varies	Sponsorship, activation, co-marketing, equity or cause structures.	Institutions, peer brands and media platforms. Never a flat post fee.

THE GIFT BOX — CONTENTS AND DESIGN

ITEM	NOTE
The box itself	Rigid, magnetic close, oxblood exterior, blind-deboss wordmark, ivory or black interior, die-cut tray so everything sits in place when the lid lifts. The first frame of the unboxing is the design brief.
Coffee + chocolate + vessel	Vessel matched to the recipient — gold ceremonial, silver performance, oxblood ceramic
Keys' handwritten note	The centrepiece. Personal: why them, what he sees. Written on camera at the monthly session.
The World card	The brand's principles and the creative invitation — create in your own style, no script
The affiliate code card	Their code and platform invite, made before the box ships

THE MEMBERSHIP CARD — FOR PARTNERS

- Stock: 16–18pt, matte oxblood or black, soft-touch laminate. Weight is the point — a members' club card, not a punch card.
- Front: SUPERMIND wordmark in Crown Gold foil, centred. Nothing else.
- Back: their name, tier, year joined, their code, one line of the World card language.
- Delivery: mailed alone in a rigid envelope with a handwritten line. Never bundled — it should arrive as an event.
- Trigger: automatic at Partner tier ($1,000 in 30 days).

THE COLLAB PACK, PROVEN

~$200 of cups, coffee, merch and goodie bags, coffee on tap for the room — against their content team filming the attendees, a pre-event shoot, and the product in their content from that day on. Their code goes live before the event; ROI is measured against that link for 60 days and nothing else.

PART 02

How the list gets built.

THE MONTHLY RHYTHM

- 01 Friday, week one: Amechi drafts 15–25 names with a one-line "why them" and an assigned instrument.
- 02 Keys reviews and adds. His contact list and his podcast guest roster are the highest-conversion sources we have — people who already know him say yes.
- 03 The team researches to fill gaps each month against the categories below.
- 04 The ask goes out from whoever holds the relationship.
- 05 Log everything with 60 days of attributed revenue behind it.
- 06 The list is living. Names that decline stay on it with a note; timing changes.

QUALIFICATION — IN PRIORITY ORDER

- Do they actually make things? Content, events, a show, a community. Output is the first filter and it beats follower count every time.
- Real engagement over reach. A 40,000-follower creator whose comments are conversations beats a 400,000-follower one whose are not.
- Does their world already look like ours? If we would have to change how they shoot, wrong name.
- Would they plausibly say yes to a hike? Still the best single filter.
- Weight toward the audience. Roughly two-thirds women per tranche, per the audience decision — not a rule that excludes anyone, a tiebreaker when there is a choice.
- Verify before you send. Third-party follower counts drift and published creator lists are unreliable.

The working list.

Verified September 2026. Figures are third-party estimates unless noted — confirm before any pitch.

MEDIA PLATFORMS AND SHOWS

NAME	WHAT IT IS	WHY IT MATTERS	THE ASK
EYL / Earn Your Leisure Invest Fest	Rashad Bilal and Troy Millings. 1.684M YouTube subscribers, 4.12% engagement. Invest Fest 2026 drew a record 31,000 attendees over three days in Atlanta, with Serena Williams as the first female headliner and $250,000 distributed through the pitch competition.	We already have the receipt. Supermind netted $12,825 at Invest Fest — more than the whole month's Shopify revenue — plus 12 affiliate inquiries. This is a proven channel, not a cold lead.	Book the 2027 activation now. Note their YouTube growth is flat (0.06% over 30 days), so prioritise the event over channel integrations. Confirm the 2027 host city first — Atlanta is not guaranteed.
High Level Conversations 19 Keys' own show	Keys' podcast, ~490 episodes over nine years, publishing several times a week. 4.9 out of 5 from 2,726 Apple ratings , #244 in US Education/Self-Improvement. Runs under the EYL Network umbrella . Plus a live component — the ticketed "Highest Level Tour."	The warmest asset we own. The audience psychographic — wealth-building, sovereignty, wellness — is close to a perfect match, and Keys controls it outright.	Mine the guest archive for the target list. Verified guests include Vic Mensa, Joey Bada$$, Van Lathan, Dr. Boyce Watkins, Chaka Bars, AJ McQueen, Keenan Beasley and Julian Brown. Keys should pull the full episode list — that is a warm-intro pool nobody else can access.
Vic Mensa	Launched The Vic Mensa Show on August 26, 2026 — weekly, 24 episodes in season one, in partnership with Mass Appeal. It extends his Orange Tree series, a 2026 Webby People's Voice winner . Season-one guests include Chance the Rapper, Lena Waithe, Rapsody and Aja Monet. Founder of 93 Boyz, Illinois' first Black-owned cannabis company.	A brand-new weekly show with a real distribution partner. Ground-floor integration before rates harden. He has already appeared on High Level Conversations , so the introduction exists.	Show integration or collaboration. From Keys, founder to founder. He is an operator, not a paid-post influencer — the ask should have ownership or a cause component.

PEER BRAND — CO-MARKETING, NOT A GIFT BOX

NAME	WHAT IT IS	THE READ
Sensori	A Black women-owned functional non-alcoholic beverage brand — mushrooms, adaptogens and nootropics including lion's mane, ashwagandha and reishi. Founded 2024 by Shanna Pearre, Darean Rhodes and Ashlyn Knox out of a yearly Dry January tradition. Crossed $100,000 revenue in Q1 2026 , in 20+ boutique wellness locations. Brought on Jacqueline Harrill — formerly VP of sales ops at Poppi , where she helped take revenue from $20M to $400M before the $1.95B PepsiCo acquisition.	This is not a creator target — and 19 Keys is already an investor. Their seed round names Block/Square, Johnson & Johnson and 19keys. That is a live, warm relationship into a peer brand. Coffee and evening NA beverages are adjacent, not competing — different dayparts entirely — which makes a collaboration genuinely viable. Their Poppi-veteran advisor and their boutique-wellness retail relationships are the real strategic assets. Approach as co-marketing, shared retail introductions, or a joint activation.

COMMUNITIES AND ORGANISATIONS

NAME	SCALE	WHY THEM	THE ASK

GirlTrek	1.5M members	The largest nonprofit for Black women's health in the country, with a stated mission to raise Black women's life expectancy by ten years in ten years. A longevity organisation at scale — and walking is a morning ritual.	Morning-walk sponsorship, product at walks, co-created content.
Sober Black Girls Club	501(c)(3)	Founded by Khadi A. Oluwatoyin. Three recurring weekly virtual meetings, a private community, workshops, a fall retreat, and Dry January programming. Publishes a partnerships inbox.	Open the conversation in October to land Dry January 2027. The sober-curious lane is wide open and "what I drink instead" is our natural territory.
Transparent Black Girl	110K · 5.05% ER	A wellness collective built specifically for Black women. The best audience precision of anything on this page.	Collab pack, co-created content, community activation.

CREATORS — PEOPLE WHO MAKE THINGS

NAME	LANE	WHY THEM	INSTRUMENT
Flau'jae Johnson	Athlete + artist	Drafted 8th overall in the 2026 WNBA draft and now in her rookie season with the Seattle Storm, after three seasons at LSU and a national title. Roc Nation recording artist, three albums. Already has beverage-endorsement experience through a national Powerade NIL deal, and — the useful part — took equity rather than cash in Unrivaled , so she is receptive to ownership structures. Publicly discusses journaling and morning prayer as non-negotiables.	Partnership conversation. Check WNBA sponsorship rules and any Powerade category exclusivity first — sports hydration versus coffee is unlikely to conflict, but confirm.
BIA	Music	Epic Records. Debut album BIANCA released October 2025 with a deluxe edition since — an active promotional cycle is useful timing leverage. Opened for Nicki Minaj's Pink Friday 2 tour. Launched Beauty for Certain , a makeup line, so she has fronted and operated a consumer product before.	Reach and awareness play rather than a credibility play — no existing wellness signal to build on . Gift box first, conversation second.
Jackie Aina	Beauty	Co-founder of FORVR Mood. An operating founder — expect founder-level rates and a founder-level conversation rather than a rate card.	Gift box → partnership
Ally Love	Fitness	Peloton instructor and founder of Love Squad. Runs a community, not just an account.	Gift box → collab pack
Lita Lewis	Fitness	Trainer; fitness and motherhood crossover. Consistent output.	Gift box
Latham Thomas	Motherhood + wellness	Founder of Mama Glow , a doula training network — she brings an institution and a professional network, not just reach.	Gift box → partnership
Jenné Claiborne	Food	Plant-based recipes, long-tenured, health-forward. Recipes are the highest-value UGC we can request.	Gift box
Clever Girl Finance	Business	Personal finance for women, founded by Bola Sokunbi. Institutional feel, and the ambition lane is where Invest Fest already proved we convert.	Gift box → collab pack

Everyone previously on this list who is not named above has been removed. The list is deliberately short — a tranche of fifteen with real intent behind each name beats a roster of fifty we never contact. Fill the remaining slots each month from Keys' contacts and the High Level Conversations guest archive.

PART 04

What the market pays, and what to check.

TIER	PER POST
100K–500K followers, Instagram	$1,250–$5,000 (plan against this)
Same tier, agency-represented	$5,000–$20,000
YouTube dedicated video	$10,000+

Negotiate separately — these inflate quotes fast: usage rights (+20–30%), category exclusivity (+15–25%), rush turnaround (+20–50%).

ON GIFTING

Product seeding converts below roughly 100K followers. Above it, gifting alone will not close anyone — use gifting to seed the micro tier and to trial affiliates before promoting them into paid deals. That ladder is exactly what the category leader runs: a wide affiliate base, with top performers graduating into paid partnerships.

WHAT THE MARKET IS ACTUALLY BUYING

The dominant deal shape in 2026 is a 6–12 month ambassadorship with a purpose component, not a one-off sponsored post. Olly signed Naomi Osaka to twelve months with a $1.5M mental-health grant commitment; Thorne signed Misty Copeland with campaign plus live appearances. A single paid post will underperform against either.

#	FLAG
1	Follower counts for Flau'jae, BIA, Vic Mensa and Keys could not be independently verified — Instagram and TikTok block automated access. Flau'jae's widely-quoted 3.1M aggregate is from January 2024 and is certainly stale. Pull current numbers manually before quoting any figure externally.
2	Sensori's most recent funding rounds are unresolved. A $500K creator round and a $3.5M institutional round both had target dates that have now passed with no reported outcome. Ask Keys directly — he is an investor.
3	Invest Fest 2027's host city is not confirmed. The founders publicly criticised Atlanta's support before a public reconciliation with the mayor. Confirm before committing budget.
4	Flau'jae's WNBA rookie season brings league sponsorship-conflict rules and a possible Powerade category exclusivity. Check both.
5	Vic Mensa's cannabis venture is a brand-safety judgment call, not a factual problem. Decide deliberately rather than discovering it late.
6	No pricing comparables exist for a functional-coffee creator deal in this space. The first three deals set our own market — structure them short and renewable so being wrong once is survivable.
7	Confirm current posting cadence for every name. Published creator rankings recycle names from years ago.

THE THREAD WORTH PULLING FIRST

19 Keys is already an investor in Sensori. That single fact links a peer brand, a warm introduction, and capital-level conviction in Black-owned functional beverage — and through the EYL Network it connects to Invest Fest and to his own show. One relationship, four doors. Start there.
